Silver Lining - Heart and Mind Alike (cd & vinyl)

This album is recorded in Velvet Recording with Lars Voldsdal and is mixed in Studio Paradiso by Marcus Forsgren. The first taste of the album is the single "Heart and Mind Alike" released on March 9th. The members of Silver Lining met with a mutual love of Gillian Welch and David Rawlings' music on a tribute night to their heroes. It soon became apparent that the voices of Stine Andreassen and Live Miranda Solberg (known as The Northern Belle and Louien, respectively) sounded exceptionally well and were able to create wonderful harmonies together.

From: Oslo, Tromsø og Voss.

Ask Carol - Ask Carol (EP)

Not all Norwegian bands are invited to SXSW for two consecutive years. There are also not many who are able to book tours in Japan, South Korea and the Philippines with few or no releases in their catalogue. However, Ask Thorsøn Borgen from Trondheim and Karoline Strømshoved from Tynset accomplished both. Before they get out on the road again, it is time for a new milestone for Ask Carol, when they release their debut EP. The self-titled EP contains five songs, including the first single "Gonna Do It", which went to the top in Norway and Germany on Spotify's viral lists. These songs are a mix of rock with a lot of attitude, and the folky dreamy pop with broad appeal, such as on the song "Caught Up In A Race".

Inger Lise Stulien - Samklang

Duet album from Inger Lise Stulien

Songs and tradition are central to Inger Lise's life. She creates closeness and love in the songs by singing in her native dialect. On this album she has invited many duet partners from around Norway. Inger Lise writes the vast majority of the lyrics herself, and most of the melodies. She has also collaborated with her regular guitarist for 15 years, Knut Kjetil Møen. The musical landscape of Inger Lise is in the popular pop genre, featuring touches of country, roots and folk music. Among the duet partners on the release are Sondre Bratland, Thom Hell, Trygve Skaug, Olav Stedje, Kirsten Bråten Berg, Kim Andre Rysstad, Fjellfolk, Stein Roger Sordal and others. Her father, Arthur Stulien, appears on accordion on a song she has written as a tribute to her good childhood. This became his last accordion solo, which he managed to record just before he died, 91 years old. All her eight siblings are singing on this song called Minnebok, translated "Memory Book".

Karmen Rõivassepp Quartet - Dance of Sounds (cd & vinyl)

«Dance of Sounds» is the debut album of the Estonian vocalist Karmen Rõivassepp. It invites the listener to the realms of sincere joy, tranquil melancholy and hidden sorrow through captivating melodies and honest storytelling both in English and Estonian. Her clear and humble vocals combined with the quartet's playful collaboration results in a distinctive contemporary jazz record. Since Karmen's move to Denmark six years ago, she has become a well-known name on the Danish jazz scene. Her constant search and development of her voice as an instrument has led to a personal sound that is now finally introduced on Dance of Sounds. Six of the eight tracks on the record are composed by Karmen, one by the remarkably inventive pianist Simon Eskildsen and one is a rendition of Stephen Sondheim's somber ballad, Bring in the Clowns. Karmen Rõivassepp Quartet creates music within the modern jazz idiom with a sophisticated melodic and harmonic approach, great musical interplay and a unique playfulness that brings new life to the genre. Dance of Sounds is the quartet's first large-scale project and suggests that there is definitely more to come from these four talented jazz musicians. Dance of Sounds was recorded, mixed and mastered by Jacob Worm in FinlandStudio, Aarhus, Denmark / November 2017 - February 2018.

Mapping Oceans - Marea

Improvised Piano trio debut. TheTrio Mapping Oceans focuses on collective improvisation where musicians improvise music that may sound like compositions, but always spontaneous and created in the present. The music varies from lyrical and meditative soundtracks to hefty rhythms like eruptive volcanoes. Some of the uniqueness of this band is the ability to turn the musical direction in a blink of an eye. With strong interaction and musicality, the trio takes the listener on a musical journey through a wide range of sounds, rhythmic complexity and multi-faceted layers of melodies and harmonies. Expect everything from hypnotic, hard-turning grooves to deep blue, impressionist collages. Here and there there's nods to great improvisers like Thelonious Monk, Keith Jarrett, Paul Motian and Bobo Stenson. The album is recorded in Rainbow Studio by Jan Erik Kongshaug and is mixed by Tore Sandbakken. Mastering by David Aleksander Sjølie

Hayden Powell - Six Commissions (vinyl)

Six Commissions is the fourth album from trumpeter Hayden Powell and his trio, featuring Eyolf Dale on piano and Jo Skaansar on bass. The album includes compositions by six different musicians and composers, as well as free improvisations by the trio. The album's opening tune, Junior Days, was composed by the popular Norwegian bassist and band-leader Mats Eilertsen. Swedish saxophonist Per "Texas" Johansson is a long-time favourite of Hayden's and agreed to write the second tune Här börjar regnbågen. Taking the trio outside their comfort zone, Norwegian saxophonist Espen Reinertsen contributed the minimalist Vent på mitt signal. Having played with Natacha Atlas' band for several years, Hayden commissioned the song Fagr Shaami as a joint effort by Atlas and her musical director, UK/Egyptian violinist Samy Bishai. Hayden has also played (and recorded for ECM) with Finnish pianist and harpist Iro Haarla, who composed Ruler of All Things. Finally, Erlend Skomsvoll, one of Norway's most prolific composers and pianists agreed to contribute the album's closing tune Enn dét.
