Motorpsycho - Roadwork Vol. 1 (red vinyl)

Limited edition 180g red vinyl, inkl CD.

This first volume consists of recordings done on the Motorpsycho Mobile during the Trust Us tour of Europe that started 6th May 1998. Some 40 hours of live Motorpsycho was captured on tape, and these are the songs the band felt represented the musical content of the tour the best..

Motorpsycho - Roadwork Vol. 2 (blue vinyl)

Limited edition 180g blue vinyl, inkl CD.

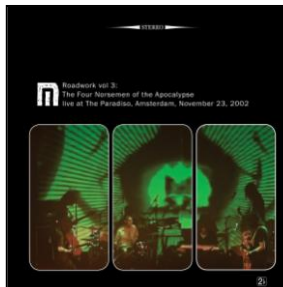

In 1995 Motorpsycho was invited by Trondheim freebag jazz combo The Source to share stage at Kongsberg Jazz Festival. The band's psychedelic/kraut/prog-leaning had'n't taken them as far as jazz yet, not to mention the Ornette Coleman style free jazz stuff The Source were playing, but they were game. This is the result; some 70 minutes of metal overkill, early 70s crypto funk, analog synth hell and some pretty freeform, out there escapades. An early example of Norwegian genre-crossing that still sounds surPrice codeingly fresh 23 years later.

Motorpsycho - Roadwork Vol. 3 (black and green ltd vinyl)

Black vinyl 180g vinyl, inkl CD.

Limited edition på 180g lys green vinyl, inkl CD.

Recorded at the venerable Paradiso club in Amsterdam in November 2002. The club streamed its own recording of the show at the time, but what we have here are Motorpsycho's own recordings, a whole other kettle of fish. Meaning properly mixed from 24 audio tracks. The centerpiece of the concert were heavily extended versions of old warhorses such as "Hogwash" and "STG" (both fantastic!), showing a band more concerned with exploring the furthest reaches of their improvisational abilities rather than trying to recreate the detailed arrangements for string-quartet and pop-group that had dominated their three previous albums. Worth mentioning is Baard Slagsvold on keyboards, his fearless approach to improvisation taking the music well into uncharted territories.

Motorpsycho - Roadwork Vol. 5 (black and yellow ltd vinyl)

Black vinyl 180g vinyl, inkl 2xCD.

Limited edition 180g yellow vinyl, inkl 2xCD.

New drummer Tomas Järmyr had only been in the band for 3 months when "The Tower" was recorded in March 2017, and it was a re-energised band that spent the following summer learning how to play selections from the vast back catalog and getting ready for the tour ahead. Kristoffer Lo (guitar, keyboards, vocals) was added to the line-up for greater flexibility and to stir the pot even more thoroughly. This volume follows in the tradition of the others, by focusing on the improvisational and experimental side of the band, taking bigger collective chances than ever before, re-imagining songs, stretching them, turning them inside out, and taking them places they've never been before. There are a number of truly outstanding selections here, cherry-picked by Snah and Järmyr.

Meménto Mori - My Minor Universe

Meménto Mori have, with his dark distinct voice and his wonderful ability to make timeless and innovative songs, made an album that manages to sneak into our bone marrow and stay there forever. The artist's birth name is Pål-Andrè Rauan and he hails from Larvik Norway. His debut album, "My Minor Universe", will be released on June 20, 2018. Meménto Mori draws inspiration from artists and bands such as Leonard Cohen and Nick Cave and The Beach Boys, with a blend of melancholy chords, multi-voice choirs and lyrics about life, death, hope and love.

Many of the songs and especially the lyrics came after a tough period in Rauan's life when he fought against cancer in 2007. After he was declared healthy, he had a different view of life, which characterizes his songs to a large extent. Pål-Andrè Rauan also plays keys with his brother Bellman, both on the albums, live and as co-producer on some of the songs. Meménto Mori has written, produced and arranged all the songs on the album himself, and everything is recorded in AMG studios in Larvik with studio technician Anders Grimstad. The songs are mixed by Jonas Rohde-Moe and Andreas Eide Larsen and mastered in New York and Stockholm.

Anders Lillebo - Departure - Traditional music from Ireland (vinyl)

Already out on CD. Jazz-educated multi-instrumentalist releases a record of Irish folk music. Life sometimes takes unexpected twists. After several years of music studies in Norway, Anders saw a future career as a jazz pianist, but a trip to a folk music festival in Ireland was going to change everything. Anders fell totally in love with the folk music of the island in, put the jazz on hold and bought accordion. Turn the clock forward a few years. After several extended Irish stays, countless late night hours spent on jam and a scary number of pints of dark beer, Anders has been noted as a very talented performer in the genre. Departure, the debut album, is recorded on the west coast of Ireland with the renowned Irish producer Jack Talty and a small bunch of highly talented Irish musicians. The Swedish musician Esbjörn Hazelius, one of Scandinavia's absolutely outstanding performers of Irish music also performs on the record. The musical material is mainly derived from the Irish folk music repertoire, but a couple of own compositions have also been included

Kjell Chr. Midtgaard - Tuddalsspel i Oslo

Kjell Chr. Midtgaard learned from the best players such as Kjetil Løndal, in the late 60's and forward. On this album he has picked up songs that have not been recorded earlier - often a bit shorter and simpler songs.

Bjørn Kåre Odde og Ole Nilssen – Edge / works by Sommerro, Bjørset and Plagge

The two folk musicians Bjørn Kåre Odde and Ole Nilssen perform compositions of Sommerro, Bjørset and Plagge on violin and accordion. Odde and Nilssen both have background from Norway's music college and are newly established professional musicians. Henning Sommerro is famous for working with many styles and many genres, and in many of his works folk music has been a distinct inspiration, and he invites musicians as well as listeners to join in a whimsical game of associations. Synnøve S. Bjørset creates a completely unique mood that specializes in the mocking sense of bad conscience. Wolfgang Plagge says his works range spans from liturgical music to symphonic works. In the midst of this thrill we find the work "Aspects" that he has written specifically for this project. Melodic theme in sharp duel, unprecedented harmony - the first part left us half hanging in the air. Slowly we drive along the lines and phrases without end. Sun goes down in second part. We slowly lean back. In the third set, beautiful melancholy gets out all inspired by a folk tune from Valdres.
